The adults with disadvantages and disabilities, especially the women, who cannot afford to the difficult working-conditions of banana producing process, usually are being included and encouraged to attend to other economical activities related with the remaining products obtained from the greenhouses after the harvest of banana is finished such as the banana stumps and leaves.

Strawberry and Banana are the main economical activities in Anamur and the city is the one which has the highest rate in exporting and producing both products in market in Turkey.

The people who have enough financial resources and agricultural lands can make/buy “greenhouses” and produce their own bananas there. However, the people especially the women with disadvantages and the gipsies who have economically weak conditions cannot produce their own bananas and sell/export them. So, the local representative of the central government and the local governor -ie. City governor and mayor- and Anamur Public Education Centre organizes courses and ateliers, and provide the adults who are mostly living in bad economic conditions, especially the women and gipsies different ways of earning their lives and making money by using the banana fiber.

In the atelier of Anamur Banana Fiber Processing centre, we will make observations about how the women produce many different handicrafts, kniwttings, art-products and other things which have economical values in the markets. We will be introduced how the banana fiber machines are used and banana byproducts are decomposed into different groups in accordance with their intended use. Besides the observations, we will also participate in a short activity in which we will produce our own handicrafts by using just the banana fiber, and other flowers and trees.

* The atelier and activity is going to be organized by the educator Selma Demiriz who became a leading figure in the city for producing banana byproducts and she educates more than 100 women with disadvantages every year, in different public and private centres and schools in the region.
